

11. The cycle of human world

The soul and the supreme soul come into the world to play their respective roles. This cycle of time is called the world cycle or the eternal drama that takes place on the stage of the world. Just as the cycle of day-night, season, human life and house or building runs uninterruptedly, the cycle of four ages, Golden age, Silver age, Copper age and Iron age must continue on the world, which can only be seen by the Supreme soul. According to the Supreme soul, this cycle of creation is about 5000 years old, which is mentioned in the Bhagavad Gita as well as in the Bible, which is divided into four equal ages. This cycle is depicted in the picture. According to the Hindu scriptures, the lifespan of iron aged world is still 40,000 years. About 200 years ago the human population of the world was 1 billion which today shows 7.90 billion. Then the human population cannot be accommodated in this world in next 40,000 years. Some people believe that Iron Age is a small child. When they are asked about how many years it took for the scriptures to be written, then they reply that thousands of years ago. Iron age was a child when the scriptures were written but today its age should be increased. Therefore, the lifespan of the cycle of creation is 5000 years, not thousands of years as narrated in the scriptures. The scriptures are for our understanding in right spirit and are like a movie. According to the movie, the main actor or actress is different than the role they are playing, meaning they exist but are not the role what they play. In the same way, the message that is said in the scriptures is the truth; they are truth but their roles are not as such what they described.

In many religions, the cycle of creation is represented in different ways. Hinduism existed when the founders of other religions came. In Hinduism, this cycle of creation is represented as a Swastika, which has four equal parts, not three or five parts. The four parts of this cycle of creation represents the four ages of world. This world, that is, our earth, runs in four age cycles namely; Golden age, Silver age, Copper age and Iron age. There is destruction and great destruction in this world but there is no complete destruction or no annihilation. If the annihilation occurs, where does the diversity of this creation and nature come from? If the annihilation occurs, where do the seeds of humans, animals, birds, plants, trees etc. come from? Change is the law of the world, so semi-destruction and destruction are also the law of change, not annihilation. Science believed in the philosophical theory of the "Big Bang" but today scientists ask what happened before the "Big Bang"? They have no answer, meaning this philosophical principle is not correct. Science gave tremendous facilities for life but logical verification is required. In short, the world drama changes in accordance with the transformation as depicted in the picture and as narrated under.

In the beginning of the golden age, there was a kingdom of deities or angels. They were full of all virtues, 16 celestial degrees full, completely viceless, having all code of conducts and following original eternal deity/angelic religion. This world is represented in various religions as "Heaven, Swarg, Bahist or Paradise", which was on our earth. Their soul has same qualities and powers of supreme soul as well as total soul conscious and in full spiritual form. The deities or angels enjoy fruit of their past action i.e. uses their accumulated power. In this era, Bharat means two words "Bhru" and "Rat" meaning earth and diamonds that is, the world was full of diamonds and in one piece. Bharat was only one continent and all the lands were connected. Bharat was in the state of complete power, purity, knowledge, happiness, peace, bliss and divine love over the whole world. The perfect and complete world has balance of science and silence and the world run by power of pure and positive thoughts. After enjoying complete happiness in golden age, the deities or angels enter silver age, in which their power decreases a little. The number of them increases but they are completely happy, healthy and wealthy.

After passing of two ages, the cycle of time enters the copper age that is body consciousness that turn the world cycle towards left path. Due to body consciousness of them, there is shock to the nature and semi-destruction took place leaving Bharat into pieces of land of seven continents. Many of the treasures of the heavenly world that were here are destroyed, that is, buried under the land and the water. The deities or angles inherited heaven or paradise by supreme soul which was stored in their resolves or sansakars, so they created oval shape of light that is Jyotirlingam. The point (bindu) is the source of origin of light and supreme soul is the ocean (sindhu) of knowledge, powers and virtues so they called themselves as Hindus from shape and qualities of Supreme Being as they lost purity due to body consciousness and place of residence as Hindustan. They commenced worshipping of supreme soul as oval shape of light about 2500 years ago and a messenger soul known as Abraham came to this world and said that supreme soul is Allah that is Noor or light. He established the Islam religion which is Jews family of religion. Body consciousness leads to fights between kings of different areas and increases violence. Therefore the messenger soul of Lord Buddha descends before 2250 years and message of non-violence spreads to establish Buddhism religion. The cycle of time goes on and now the people also fight after seeing the kings fighting. At such a time the Messiah Jesus Christ comes as the messenger before 2000 years and sends the message of His love saying love thy neighbour instead of fighting. He established the Christian religion. Human souls become more vicious so 1500 years ago, Mahatma Shankaracharya came as the messenger and sent the message of purity. He established the Sanyas (renunciation) religion. In this way the four main religions come into the Copper age and the religious power and ruling power are separated.

The cycle of time goes on. Now the body consciousness increases and the Iron Age begin. Now various invaders are attacking India as it was very rich and conquering it due to lack of power of these souls who become body conscious. At the end, when all the souls become vicious (tamopradhan) and attain extreme sorrow, they cry out to supreme soul Almighty, "O purifier, come and purify ourselves, as well as O liberator, come and liberate us from sorrow."

The cycle of time goes on and Iron Age finally comes to an end and the auspicious confluence age comes, which is the shortest age amongst all ages. Supreme soul incarnates in an old human male body according to the drama plan, named him Prajapita Brahma, known as Adidev, Adam or Edam in various religions. Supreme soul bestows His knowledge and powers through this human body. Their future and status is determined on the basis of the efforts made at this time by the souls. Again Supreme soul retires and lives in Supreme Abode after establishing heaven on this earth. It is a rule of nature that anything new must be created while it becomes old automatically.

Every soul is in a state of liberation and is complete when it is in Supreme Abode, meaning it is endowed with peace, power and purity. The souls that come to heaven have liberation in life, endowed with peace, power, purity and happiness. Being soul conscious they do not come under bondage of actions or karma. Then the body consciousness enters which lead to bondage of karma and loses its power. Again Supreme soul incarnates to purify them with knowledge and power or by punishment as indicated in different religions. Thus the role of soul, Supreme soul and nature in world drama are eternal, meaning that the world cycle goes on eternally.

Let us practise rajyoga meditation. Being children of Supreme soul, we are the master ocean of His knowledge, powers and qualities. We souls are full of peace, power and purity in our home, supreme abode. We come as deity or angels in the golden age of peace, power, purity and happiness. In the silver age we have all the qualities of the golden age, except the two celestial degrees of the soul decrease and the population increases. The cycle of time goes on and the copper age begins where body consciousness enters, leading to semi-destruction in nature. Thus the whole world is divided into seven continents. The deities become human souls, so they worship the almighty supreme soul shiva as form of light, representing as a point of light. Supreme soul is the point of light (Bindu) and the ocean (Sindhu) of knowledge, powers and virtues, based on which the deities call themselves Hindus because they lost their divinity and call their residence as Hindustan. Four major religions came into existence in this age. Due to body consciousness, the souls quickly lose their powers and Iron Age begins, in which much sorrow and peacelessness increased to maximum. All souls cry out to the almighty authority for liberation and salvation of life. At last He enters the old human body to inherit His knowledge and powers. On the basis of His knowledge, powers and virtues, He transforms human souls into deities or angels according to their efforts, destroys the old world and new world begins again.
